

SNIPPET OF GENERAL POEM TO A FRIEND

*So the time came again late November 2004
The travelling bug again knocked on our door
Back again to Thailand for the third year in a row
For 5 weeks off in the sun and a chance to rest your big toe.
An opportunity to drink fruit shakes, eat Pad Thai off the street,
Chocolate & banana pancakes and flip flops on our feet.
Christmas on the beach, swap frost for the sun
No manic Christmas rush, no hassle, just pure relaxing fun!*

*We were back in Bangkok like we'd never been away
Then off on a bus to Cambodia the very next day
Really bumpy roads made me need the loo
You made the whole bus stop, I was ready to kill you!
We saw Angkor Wat, we met Mr T
We travelled through the towns learning about the history
We met some great people, we had it all
Topping up the tan and playing bat and ball
Then back into Thailand to spend, Xmas on the sand
To relax for a couple of weeks exactly as we planned.*
